

Helping to improve the lives of children with needs

It takes money and love to improve the lives and wellbeing of disadvantaged and special need children - that's why making regular ongoing donations to Variety through Workplace Giving is so vital.

by supporting Variety you will help...

- Disadvantaged children and young people;
- Disadvantaged families;
- Indigenous communities;
- Children with special needs.

a little contribution each pay can mean:

- $15 per month will contribute to the Scholarship Program which provides grants for children to realise their potential and achieve their life goals in areas such as sport and arts.
- $25 per month will contribute toward equipping children with mobility equipment (such as wheelchairs) and ultimately their freedom.
- $35 per month will contribute towards providing sunshine coaches to allow children to enjoy social outings and to help with their development.

Workplace Giving

Helping children across Australia
while you WORK!

Workplace Giving

what is workplace giving?

Workplace Giving is a simple yet powerful way for employees to assist Variety to deliver services to children with needs through dollars received via regular payroll deductions.

Once established, Workplace Giving provides both Variety and your business with a low cost and low maintenance way to support the community.

making a difference

For Variety, Workplace Giving means having a regular source of income to deliver and develop our vital programs and services to children and families in need.

For employers, Workplace Giving means having the capacity to engage and encourage staff and to show leadership as an employer committed to humanity.

For employees, Workplace Giving means having the power to make a real and meaningful difference to the lives of children who need it most.

When an individual makes a donation, it usually comes from their taxed income. Workplace Giving is so effective because it allows employees to make direct, pre-tax donations to Variety from their gross salary. Depending on the amount donated, a tax benefit is received every time employees donate. In short, it makes giving easier than ever.

we are happy to help

Variety can offer guidance and information on how best to set up a Workplace Giving program and effectively engage your staff. Please send an email to simon.harris@varietyNSW.org.au.

Supporting your involvement communication and information

Variety will work hard to keep your employees enthusiastic and informed about how their Workplace Giving donations are being put to work, through:

- Presentations to your employees by Variety staff and recipients of grants from Variety;
- Invitations to your employees to experience local programs in action;
- Regular provision of newsletters and email updates;
- Preparation and provision of information, case studies and testimonials for inclusion in your communications.

engagement

In addition to supporting Variety through Workplace Giving, we will encourage and support your employees' broader involvement through:

- Volunteering; take part in the Variety Christmas Kid's Party or help with the Ladies of Variety whom organise trips for kids with special needs twice monthly;
- Attend presentations to community groups and schools;
- Corporate fundraising initiatives and events.

A little contribution each pay means the world to children with needs...
